5th house

the house of what you make, play at and love out loud • Houses are whole-sign (each house = one full sign counted from your rising sign) – stated honestly wherever a house is shown; houses appear only when a birth time is known.

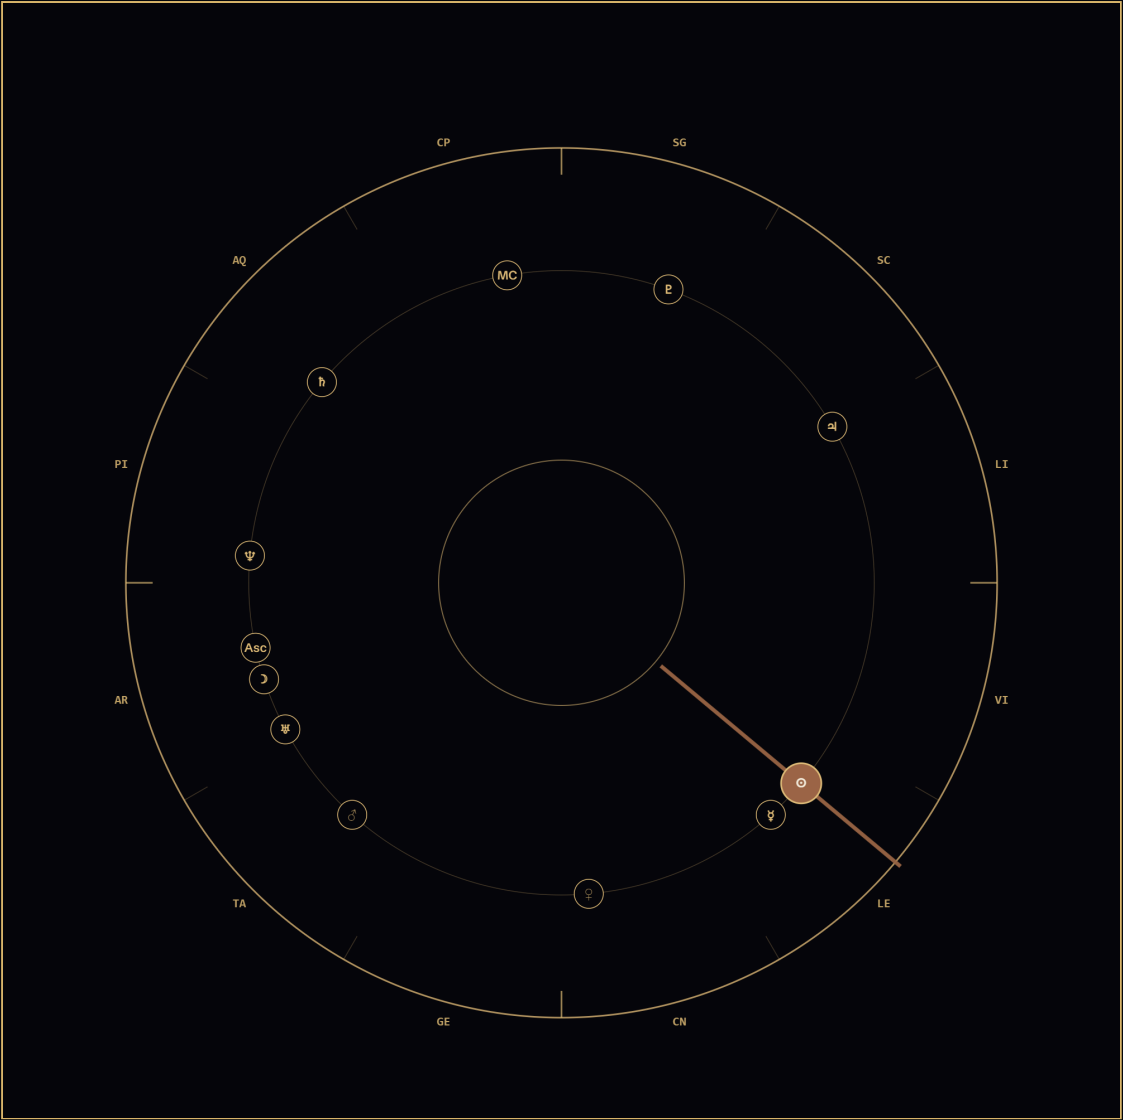

So the question here is a quiet one: which version of you is asking to be lived openly now — and what have you outgrown?

A facing – the eclipse mirrors this point from across the chart. Saturn is read here as your responsibilities, limits and long patience (opposition, $0^{\circ}02'$).

An ease – the eclipse supports this point. Moon is read here as your inner life – moods, memory, and what makes you feel safe (trine, $2^{\circ}02'$).

Quieter touches, worth a glance — the closest contact above is the one that carries the reading.
